The College of the Muscogee Nation hosted a first-ever, Mvskoke Language Symposium. Attendees gathered for a keynote address by Jay Fife, followed by workshops led by fluent, Mvskoke language speakers.

Workshop sessions reinforced different levels of language fluency, introduced a video game incorporating the Mvskoke language, and engaged the audience in Mvskoke hymn singing.

CMN President Monte Randall shared feedback from focus groups regarding the current state, and future, of the Mvskoke language. The College has introduced a new Mvskoke language certificate program, as a part of its contribution to preserving the language.
